Recently, Deputy Consul General Pei Guichun met with a visiting delegation of faculty and students from Buddhist Yip Kei Nam Memorial College, Hong Kong SAR.

Deputy Consul General Pei welcomed the delegation, sharing insights into China's development, the evolving relationship between China and Australia, the general status of the consular district, and the district's tie with Hong Kong. He pointed out that the nation's modernization and the Guangdong-Hong Kong-Macao Greater Bay Area provide solid support, vast opportunities, and strong momentum for Hong Kong's growth. He emphasized that Hong Kong's prospects are brighter than ever, with increasingly robust international competitiveness.

Deputy Consul General Pei encouraged the visiting students to aim high, broaden their perspectives, and sharpen their skills, urging them to write a brilliant chapter of their youth in the next chapter of the country's growth.

Young diplomats from the Consulate General briefed the delegation on the educational landscape of the consular district and China-Australia educational exchanges, followed by an interactive session on various topics of mutual interests.
